ESSAY

Essay: The Two Faces of Anonymity ................................................................. 1

Alex Kozinski

COMMENT

Salinas v. Texas: The Fifth Amendment Self-Incrimination Burden .......... 19

Matthew J. Thompson Jr.

ARTICLES

A Proposal to the ABA: Integrating Legal Writing and Experiential Learning into a Required Six-Semester Curriculum that Trains Students in Core Competencies, ‘Soft’ Skills, and Real-World Judgment? ................................................................. 59

Adam Lamparello and Charles E. MacLean

Answering the Call: Flipping the Classroom to Prepare Practice Ready Attorneys ............................................................................................................. 113

Alex Berrio Matamoros

“The Perfect is the Enemy of the Good:” The Case for Proportionality Rules Instead of Guidelines in Civil E-Discovery ................................................................. 153

Leah M. Wolfe

The Search for Meaning in the Notice Requirements of the Fair Debt Collection Practice Act: A 30 for 30 Short ................................................................. 201

Johnny Parker

Avoiding Unintended Disclosure: Representing Clients with HIV and Aids ...... 227

LaShanda Taylor Adams