Continuing Education Credits

in Adoption and Child Welfare Topics

The National Center for Adoption Law & Policy and Capital University Law School are offering low-cost CLE and CEU learning opportunities through the Interdisciplinary Child Welfare Institute and the Summer Adoption Law Institute. Both courses are taught in dynamic learning environments with an emphasis on student interaction.

The Interdisciplinary Child Welfare Institute* provides a mutual understanding of legal and sociological principles central to child welfare practice. It is one of the few interdisciplinary child welfare courses offered in the nation.

Held July 30-August 3 at Capital University Law School, ICWI offers 23.5 CEUs or CLEs.

For more information, a daily agenda and to reserve your seat visit www.ncalp.org.

*For attorneys and social workers

The Summer Adoption Law Institute* offers a chance for practicing attorneys to join law students from across the country in exploring adoption and related child protection issues from both academic and practitioner perspectives.

Held August 6-10 at Capital University Law School, SALI offers 23.5 CLEs with flexible registration opportunities.

For more information, a daily agenda and to reserve your seat visit www.ncalp.org.
